Meeting Guests: There were 11 guests as detailed on the attached member/guest list compiled by Bill Nelson

It was our pleasure to host representatives from the Nat'l Exchange Club, David Johnson and Gary Leonard, introduced by Jack Wilson: Mr. Johnson who is the Nat'l President recognized two of our longstanding members, Randolph Jones 37 yrs., and Patrick Welch 41 years. Mr. Leonard who is running for Nat'l President, recognized the efforts and unique value of our Handbook/Directory.

Our scheduled guest speaker, Luther Reynolds (bio attached) was not able to be here. John Reock introduced three other gentlemen who are involved with our local law enforcement community:

1. Ben Navarro of The Charleston Place Hotel, on video, who is a friend and supporter of the Charleston Police Dept and of LENS
2. George Reef from IOP, a former reinsurance industry leader who founded Law Enforcement Neighborhood Support (LENS). LENS works exclusively with the Charleston PD to strengthen community relations <https://www.thelensfoundation.com/>
3. Ed Marinaro, if you're a football fan or Hills Street Blues fan, you know Ed Marinaro, Ed played college football at Cornell University, where he was a three-time All-American, and set over 16 NCAA records. He was runner-up for the Heisman Trophy in 1971. Ed played professional football for the Minnesota Vikings where he played in two super bowls. After leaving football, Marinaro became an actor. He is best known for his role on Hill Street Blues playing officer Joe Coffey. Ed then played the head football coach on the comedy, Blue Mountain State. Ed currently lives locally with his wife and is deeply involved with Law Enforcement Neighborhood Support (LENS).

Good evening fellow club members and guests.

Tonight, we're paying tribute to Chief Warrant Officer Curtis Scott "Skinny" Reagan of Summerville, who died March 29, 2013 in Kandahar, Afghanistan. Chief Warrant Officer Reagan was with the 603rd Aviation Support Battalion, 3rd Infantry Division, stationed at Fort Stewart-Hunter Army Airfield, Georgia. He graduated from Summerville High School and played football there. Scott had just been accepted to University of South Carolina School of Law before he died. He was a devoted husband, father, brother and mentor, and he loved to fly.

A friend of Warrant Officer Reagan had this to say about him:

"Skinny from the first time you met him ...was different. Loved learning from him. Loved making him laugh. Too many stories to mention. Great family man and loved his country. He would do anything for anyone. Sometimes it got him in trouble, and he would just smile, saying it was worth it.

Warrant Officer Reagan was so loved and respected by his colleagues that the Army Health Clinic on Hunter Army Airfield was named in his honor and memory.

As an indication of our respect for Chief Warrant Officer Reagan and others who gave their lives for our country, the club places US flags around our community several times a year. Each flag has a yellow ribbon attached with the name of a fallen hero.

Chief Warrant Officer Reagan, we salute you and your sacrifice on our behalf.

Please stand and join me in reciting the pledge of allegiance.

Luther T. Reynolds
Chief of Police
Charleston Police Department

Luther Reynolds was appointed Chief of Police of the Charleston Police Department on April 16, 2018. He is responsible for the overall operation of the largest municipal law enforcement agency in the state of South Carolina.

Chief Reynolds comes to the Charleston Police Department from Montgomery County Police Department where he served for more than thirty years. During that time, Chief Reynolds held the ranks of Patrol Officer, Sergeant, Lieutenant, Captain and Assistant Chief. His previous assignments included Station Commander, Director of Personnel Division, Director of Training & Education, Captain of the Special Events Operations Division, Assistant Chief of Administrative Bureau and Assistant Chief of the Patrol Bureau.

Chief Reynolds received his Bachelor's Degree in Criminology from Florida State University and a Master of Science Degree in Business with a concentration in Information Systems Technology from Johns Hopkins University. He is a graduate of the FBI National Academy, Law Enforcement Executive Development School, FBI National Executive Institute, Major Cities Chiefs Association Police Executive Leadership Institute, Police Executive Research Forum Senior Management Institute for Police, and is an active member of the Fraternal Order of Police. In addition to the aforementioned accomplishments, Chief Reynolds currently serves as the Executive Director of the FBI National Executive Institute Associates.

Chief Reynolds believes in effective and meaningful problem solving efforts driven by data and collaboration with our communities and many partners. Public trust and consistent community outreach/engagement and meaningful communication help the police place the proper resources at the right time, in the right places and with the most effective strategies, yielding the best possible outcomes. Keeping our communities' safe is an iterative and ongoing process only accomplished through trust, synergy, patience, hard work and always doing the right things for the right reasons.

Chief Reynolds is married to Caroline and they have two children, Luke and Grace.
